Ways to Make Edison Rock

1. Signal that the conversation is over by clamping your hands over your ears.
2. Repeat the following conversation a dozen times while talking to someone, "Do you hear that?" "What?" "Nevermind, it's gone now."
3. Give a play-by-play account of a person's every action and watch their reaction.
4. Pretend your mouse is a CB radio and talk to it.
5. Page yourself over the intercom and don't disguise your voice.
6. Insert nonsense words into the middle of your conversation. When asked to repeat yourself, replace it with something totally normal.
7. One day in the middle of passing period, show up in the wrong class and say that you were switched there for reasons beyond your knowledge.
8. Make encouraging sports signs for your friends and hang them on their lockers, even if they don't play sports.
9. While in the bathroom sing so loud that people in the hallways can hear you.
10. Run down the hallways as fast as you can screaming, "Fire! Fire!"

My First Love

Everyday and every night

There's a feeling I just can't fight

When moonlight falls upon your face

I couldn't think of a better place,

To be with you right here right now

I don't know or care why or how

Call it fate or destiny

But somehow I know we were meant to be

The look in your eyes when we look at each other

I never want to hold another

I promise always to be loyal and true

And I love feeling this way for you

I cherish the time we spend together

I will always be happy this way forever

Even if what we have won't last

I will always be able to remember the past

But since that will never happen to you and me

Now you have made me see

You must be a gift from above

I now thank God for sending me

MY FIRST LOVE

By: Megan Lauderdale

Remember Me

I've never been so lucky in my whole entire life.

I have my angels with me as well as my friends.

My angels have been there, really been there, for me through my worst hours.

I can never forget them, no matter where they decide to go.

I love them more than my words and expressions may show.

Right at this very moment they aren't sure who they are, but that's ok.

At least I know.

My friends have always been there to comfort me.

Even when I couldn't explain what was wrong.

I love them just for understanding.

I don't know what I would do without them.

I don't know where I would be.

I have battled with my angels and I have fought with my friends.

We may come out with scars, but we're still there for each other.

No one really wins and no one really loses.

We just grow and learn.

I honestly do not know what I would do without my Angels or my friends.

I thank you more than I possibly can for everything.

You guys will always be in my heart!

No matter what.

Promise me, though, you will always remember me.

Love always forever,

Sam

Faded Memories

*One more year and we will be gone.
never looking back*

*The fun we had through the years will become faded memories
Some say they can't wait for the big day to come.*

The day you can be free and finally Leave.

*Your friends will miss you and you will make pacts,
That you will never forget each other.*

One more year till we say goodbye to the friends we've always known.

*Just one more year and we will be gone
and so will the friends
we made those pacts with.
Gone just like the faded memories.*

What movie did you prefer "Hannibal" or "Silence of the Lambs"?

We asked eleven sophomores, if they prefer "Hannibal" or "Silence of the Lambs". Only three students picked "Hannibal" and eight picked "Silence of the Lambs".

Summer Lawson said, "Silence of the Lambs" is scarier and Melany Vera added, "It is sicker."

Scott Silverthorn said, "Hannibal" had a better plot than "Silence of the Lambs".

David Marcum said, "Silence of the Lambs" is better than "Hannibal" because "Hannibal" is boring at the beginning; there is too much talking and "Silence of the Lambs" has more action."

Mr. Hayes

Mr. Hayes has been with Edison for a very long time and when we asked him questions, we were amazed by the answers. He started teaching in 1969 at School City of Gary and didn't teach at Edison until 1979. For his retirement he plans to be the head coach of men's basketball at Purdue University Calumet. One of the many changes he has seen is the declining enrollment at Edison. His words of wisdom were to be consistent with all students and demand excellence from them, whether academic or athletic. Mr. Hayes hopes that he has taught all students to have respect and conduct themselves properly around peers and adults. He hopes he has taught them to compete athletically, and have pride in themselves. He wants them to believe they can defeat any opponents with discipline, fundamentals, and mental toughness.

Mr. Mann

Mr. Mann has been at Edison for a very long time and when we sat down to ask him questions, we were amazed by the answers. Mr. Mann started teaching in 1966, but didn't teach at Edison until 1982. For his retirement he plans on playing piano and trumpet professionally. The changes he has seen the most at Edison High School is the students seem to have gotten younger and younger. The words of wisdom for whoever takes over next year is be patient. He hopes that he taught the students to be responsible.

How much time do you think goes into a high school newspaper? How much effort as well?

"Students at Edison don't understand how much work the newspaper staff does," Says Editor in chief Shelby Wydmon. "They take it for granted and criticize every mistake."

The members, despite the occasional writer's block, have all stated how much they love writing and being on the Eagle Feather's staff, despite the on going criticism.

"It's hard; I'm not going to lie," states Cora Hertaus towards prospective students. "However, when you are all done with an issue, you get a feeling that you can't explain."

Above Right: Barbara Ling and Shelby Wydmon look through the Feather's filing cabinet. Both the editors plan on continuing with writing after they graduate from high school. "After I graduate [from] high school, I plan on attending St. Mary's College" says Shelby Wydmon. "I would like to be on the Notre Dame-St. Mary's newspaper staff."

The French Club was dynamic and really outgoing this year. They helped all the military get through Christmas without their families. They gave cards to the people who had nobody to care for them. They celebrated the day before Christmas break by caroling around many different classrooms. During Mardi Gras they celebrated just like the French people would. The Mardi Gras kings were Mark Deulley and Tony Robb. Many of the events were about the French, like the French trivia game. The French Club had a very helpful and great group of people who did a number of worthwhile projects.

LET'S HANG ON

Varsity Football

This year's football team had a tough year. They worked hard and hung in there. The team really tried this year and are looking forward to next year. Coach Maurek had a little saying about this year, he said it was all "Murphy's Law" meaning everything that can go wrong will.

Varsity Volleyball

The girls' varsity volleyball team had played well, but it was a very tough year for them. When we asked Amy Woynaroski what was the best game she replied, "Boone Grove was the best game because they all helped each other out." We asked Amanda Littell what was the worse game and she said, "Westville because they were so close to winning that game." We asked Angela Littell what was the funniest thing that ever happened and she said, "When she and Amy back-led each other at sectionals."

BOY'S TENNIS

This season was a little shaky but it was a young team. With three freshmen and two sophomores, there was a lot of room for learning. Coach Baker expects good things from the team next year. A team that learns and develops their skills together wins together. Seniors Tony Corral and Jason Carson will be missed next season, but surely they left their teammates with good advice to use as a foundation to build a strong team.

Good luck in the the future Eagles!

George Blystone

After thirty-eight years of working for US Steel, George Blystone retired. He then became a crossing guard for fourteen years.

Everyone associates Mr. Blystone with candy, but no one associates the cost. He spends $3,000 annually on different types of candy.

Working in the steel mill and working as a crossing guard aren't the only jobs Mr. Blystone has had. He served in the army during World War II.

Because all of these things, we dedicate the 2000-2001 Edisonian yearbook to George Blystone.

"I like when I come in to the office and he waves. He brightens my day."

- Mrs. Perryman

"Everyday Mr. Blystone waves to me and tells me to have a good day. Every now and then he makes me stop, and he drops candy through my sun roof" - Mrs. Peele

"He runs to our truck and gives my husband candy and a smile."

- Mrs. Pappas

"I like how, rain or shine, he always has a smile. It's very encouraging. It's also nice to get a little treat when we are running errands for yearbook."

- Joyce Garrett

Tabitha Renee Sable

It never seems fair for a young person to die, when she hasn't had a chance to really live. Tabitha Renee Sable passed away on July 12, 2000, she was just 14 years old. Though she died young, she was very happy and left many people who remember her and talk about her with fond memories.

She always wanted to be a pediatrician or a veterinarian. Tabitha was the typical teenager, she talked on the phone, shopped, and hung out with her friends. Edison was left with a physical void, but Tabitha remains always in our hearts.

Tabitha Sable and Karen Meadows smile before going to the mall. They were always together; you would never find them apart.

Miss Me - But Let Me Go

Author: Unknown

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me.

I want no rites in a gloom filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little - but not too long
And not with your head bowed low.

Remember the love that we once shared;

Miss me but let me go
For this is a journey we all must take

And each must go alone.
It's all part of the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart.

Go to the friends we know;
and bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.

Miss me - but let me go!

Above: At home, a smiling Tabitha Sable talks on the phone as she works on her art project.

Far Right: Senior David Beck and junior Jackie Snoder are dressed up for Hippy Day, but still work on their Spanish during the busy week.

Right: The senior class used "I Love Lucy" for their class float and came in 3rd place this year.

Right: The sophomores chose Batman for their float this year. They came in 2nd place.

Spirit Week

Left: Mrs. Peele and her friend, John Travolta, have alot of school spirit. They got all dressed up for farmer day.

Left: Freshmen dressed up as the characters from Gilligan's Island for their float, which won 1st place in that event.

Left: The senior class worked on putting up their signs for the window decorating event and placed 4th.

Homecoming Dance

This year the Homecoming Dance was on October 14, 2000 from 7 to 10 P.M. Even though we had lost our football game, the spirits were still up at the dance. The Homecoming Queen was Nina Lazda and Homecoming King was Daniel Guzman.

Lindsay Hurrell was teaching Erica Calzaghe to swing dance at Homecoming. The D.J. played many swing dances.

Barbara Ling and Michael Gaine stare into each others eyes while a slow song plays. They danced the night away with each other.

Above: We Danced
The senior boys were in a conga line. They danced with each other in order to remember this last homecoming together.

Homecoming Game

This year's Homecoming Game was held on Friday, October 13th. The football team played Bishop Noll. The game was filled with a lot of cheering as the Eagles tried to win. Although the game was not won, the team put up a great fight. It was their last fight of the season. The football team may have lost, but there was one win on that field that night. Nina Gazda, senior, was crowned this year's 2000-2001 Homecoming Queen.

THIS YEAR'S WINTER DANCE

"ONLY IN A DREAM"

WAS HELD ON February
16, 2001. THIS DANCE
WAS A NIGHT FOR EVERYBODY TO COME TOGETHER AND HAVE A
GOOD TIME WITH FRIENDS. THE DANCE WAS HELD BY THE STUDENT COUNCIL. EVERYBODY AT
THE DANCE
COMPLIMENTED THE DECORATIONS. THE GLITTER MADE IT SEEM
AS THOUGH THE ROOM WAS SPRINKLED WITH DIAMONDS.

"THE DANCE
WOULD HAVE BEEN BETTER IF
MORE PEOPLE SHOWED UP,"
SAID ANGELA
LITTELL.

.....
Right: Matt Troutman, 12th grade, with the Best of Show artwork. Matt's Polaroid emulsion transfer technique won him the coveted $100.00 prize, as well as being the artwork to be framed and hung in the school permanently. Matt also won $50.00 for his ink and color pencil drawing of a shell.

Left: Justin Alderson, 12th grade, with his favorite sculpture. The River Forest High School Art teacher selected Justin as the recipient of the $200.00 scholarship. Justin also won $25.00 for the Creativity award, selected by an anonymous donor, for his man sculpture made of wood.

Right: Justin Farrell, 11th grade, with his winning design for the 2001 art show cover design contest. Justin won $25.00 for his design.

Miss Leonardo led the way down the Yellow Brick Road. The Wizard Of Oz was performed on March 17, 18, and 19th. Although this story has been told many times, it was a huge success. Joyce Garrett sat in front of a lady that knew all the witch's lines. She laughed heartily, and when Joyce looked at her she whispered to Joyce that the witch was her favorite character. Who was this lady? We are not sure who she was, but she was enjoying herself and probably was a Wizard of Oz fan. She is also the lady pictured below getting the autograph from the lion. Miss Leonardo deserves to take a bow for the joy she brought to the cast and audience.

Voices of Democracy

The theme of this year's Voices of Democracy was What Price Freedom? Mrs. Pappas' speech class and Ms. Price's senior and sophomore students participated in this contest. The students had to write an essay as well as a taped speech. The Lord VFW judged all submissions and one out of every 25 entries could be a winner. The winners from Lake Station were all seniors. The first place winners were Laron O'Connor and Andy Hurtado, second place winners were Matt Troutman and Kristi McWhirter, and third place winners were Becky Tarnowski and Nicole Coundiff.

Art 2, 3, or 4 Field Trip to Chicago

Above: Brian Rollins, Craig Bennett, and Joyce Garrett chat until the Chicago train comes. They were in Chicago for the day to look at art.

1. What did you enjoy most about the trip?

Amanda Littell said, "I enjoyed going out to eat, rather than eating at school."

2. What was your favorite art piece?

Joyce Garrett said, "I liked the black painting the most. It was very funny to see. It's just a giant canvas painted completely black. What was even funnier was to see people actually standing there saying that he was a genius and it was real art. I couldn't believe they were trying to contemplate it."

3. What was your favorite part about being in Chicago all day?

Greg Cox said, "I got to have a lot of fun and enjoy the city. The beautiful architecture, weather, everything about Chicago. It's really a great city."

4. What was the most inspiring thing you saw at The American Academy of Art?

Amanda Littell said, "The most inspiring thing I saw was the real-life people. They were very detailed."

Joyce Garrett said, "One of the coolest drawings they had there was the collaboration by the two boys. They drew together; they would work from the outside in and then when they finished, they would sign the opposite side, they drew on."

Greg Cox said, "The painting by Stan Lee; it had like all of the marvel heroes and villains."

Above: Scott Silverborn, Greg Cox, and John Troutman sit back and "chill." They had a thrilling day walking all over the Windy City.

Time to say 'Goodbye'

"Hello, Goodbye" suits the feelings at the end of the school year. Seniors are going to be saying "goodbye" to high school life and "hello" to the new life set ahead of them.

For the freshman, sophomores, and juniors, it's just a "goodbye" to another school

Congratulations Class of 2001

from the Edisonian Staff

Education is one of the few investments that always appreciates in value.

With every tough math problem, every long history lesson, every nail-biting exam, a young person's mind can't help but grow. And grow. So it is with great pleasure that we congratulate all those involved in the pursuit of quality education. It's the kind of investment that will always yield a handsome return.

This year the yearbook staff decided to make the 60th volume of the Edisonian really stand out as a different type of yearbook. A theme that incorporated music seemed to be the answer. Lindsay Hursell made the initial suggestion, and Joyce Garrett, Nick Deavers, and Mrs. Peele attended a workshop in Merrillville. There, an artist sketched the cover according to the wishes of the staff. The staff found this job a little more difficult than expected, but they welcomed the challenge.

Valerie Tanke, the sales representative from Walsworth, encouraged the staff and was very helpful in assisting with the "rock-and-roll" version of the yearbook.

Indiana School Pictures, John Sykes, and various yearbook staff members took the group, candid, and sports pictures.

Other people who helped, in one way or another, to produce the yearbook this year are:

Mrs. Georgion
Mrs. Lemly
Mrs. Sykes
Coaches and Teachers
Sponsors of ads

Without the help of many people, there would not be a yearbook. As said best by "oldie but goodie" Sam and Dave, I Thank You. This is also extended to the entire yearbook staff.

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in all age groups, but the increase has been most marked in the young (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of young people (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The National Institute for Mental Health (NIMH) in the USA has estimated that 10% of the population under the age of 18 has a mental health problem (NIMH 1999). In the UK, the prevalence of mental health problems in young people is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems in young people is increasing in all countries, and this is a global phenomenon (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million in the same period.

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that older people are a valuable resource; (2) that older people have the right to live independently; (3) that older people have the right to access the services they need; and (4) that older people should be treated with respect and dignity. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.
